

ENGINEERS
AUSTRALIA

Earn CPD hours

Environmental Law and Risks associated with Ignoring Climate Change

Hosted by: Northern Rivers Group

Following on from Lou Stojanovski's extremely popular and informative sessions in previous years, the Northern Rivers Group have again secured Lou to present on their behalf. However, this time Lou will be presenting via webinar from the Newcastle Division Auditorium. The webinar option opens up the presentation to a wider audience otherwise constrained by time and distance. Attendees can access the webinar through a link provided by confirmation email upon registration for the event, whilst attendance in person is also an option for those local to the Division Office.

Lou will present on 'Environmental Law and risks associated with ignoring Climate Change'

Lou Stojanovski, Founding Director Keystone Lawyers

As founding director of Keystone Lawyers, Lou commenced his legal career in 1995 and is now an industry recognised specialist in construction, mining and infrastructure law. He holds a Bachelor of Construction Management (Building) and has previously worked as a projects officer in a large building company. Lou's background allows him to quickly understand the needs of clients involved in projects and offer sound and effective legal advice. He is a regular speaker to industry groups on contracts, risk minimisation and asset protection. Lou is driven by his passion for people and seeing clients succeed in their business.

VENUE

Engineers Australia
Suite 3, Tonella Commercial Centre
125 Bull Street
Newcastle West
(entry via Dick Street)

DATE & TIME

Thursday 27 February 2020
5.30pm for 6.00pm start (AEDT)
Webinar available along with the usual option to attend the event in person at the EA Auditorium. Please choose from the available options when registering online. Webinar commences 6pm AEDT.

TICKETS (incl. GST)

EA Members: Free
Non-Members: $30

Exclusive Supporter:

REGISTER NOW